

Essential Soft Skills To Up Your Sales Game Overview

Course Created By: Melany Muraour ©

Essential Soft Skills To Up Your Sales Game

Overview

Welcome to our Train in a Day – Essential Soft Skills To Up Your Sales Game Course. Success in sales requires more than just technical know-how of products or services. Soft skills are the social and interpersonal skills that help you build relationships and trust with your customers. These skills are just as essential to determining whether your company will succeed or fail. First we'll cover an introduction of why soft skills are crucial to your sales success. Then we'll dive deeper into some of the most essential soft skills for sales people, such as building connections, listening, and selling with greater emotional intelligence.

What You'll Learn

- What it takes to up your sales game
- Understand why soft sales skills matter
- Discover the essential soft sales skills
- How you can master soft sales skills
- How you can build advanced soft sales skills

Audience

Essential Soft Skills To Up Your Sales Game Course is a perfect course for beginner sales professionals to develop their emotional intelligence (EQ) and soft skills that are essential to conduct sales and increase their sales figures. MLN marketers, platform speakers (sellers), entrepreneurs and sales professionals from all walks of life looking to sharpen their sales skills and as well as anyone considering sales as a career will also benefit from signing up.

Uncover what it takes to up your sales game

Why Soft Sales Skills Matter

Discover the essential soft sales skills

Master soft sales skills

Acquire advanced soft sales skills

What you will learn

Train in a Day Essential Soft Skills To Up Your Sales Game Course Checklist

- What it takes to up my sales game
- Understand why soft sales skills matter
- Discover the essential soft sales skills
- How I can master soft sales skills
- How to build advanced soft sales skills

